Five lawyers on the democratic state ticket! Surely that ought to satisfy the workingman!

A science of reconstructing society on an entirely new basis, by substituting the principle of association for that of competition in every branch of human industry.
—Worcester's Dictionary.

During the Hazlett campaign in Ravalli county, on the second night this fluent speaker addressed the people of Stevensville, in front of the hall there was twenty-nine teams tied; the farmers having driven five to twenty miles to hear a Socialist orator. Are the farmers coming to Socialism?

Wilshire has reduced the price of his yearly subscription cards to 25 cents. Cards will be sent to anyone on credit and payment need not be made until sold. This offer is an especially good chance to get a finely illustrated dollar Socialist magazine at a nominal price and our readers should not fail to jump at it. Better order today before you forget about it.
The offer holds good only until next election day.

Sam Glidden of Carbon county is a candidate on the democratic ticket for state senator. Glidden is also manager for W. A. Clark's coal mines at Bridger, and agent for Pillsbury flour in that section.
Glidden had his cards out announcing his candidacy for state senator before the democratic convention was held in Carbon county. They were printed in Minneapolis, the home of the Pillsburys, and bear the label of the local Typographical union there, and also the phiz of this adolescent sprig. Pillsbury wants to be a large factor in Montana in the flour business, and to facilitate matters, he must have his Carbon county agent in the state senate.

A local of the Socialist party will be formed at Canyon Creek and one at St. Regis, Mont. Calls for charters were made by the comrades of these two places.

Word has been received by this office that the office of state secretary of the Socialist party has been transferred from Butte to Livingston. The new secretary is James D. Graham, 532 "I" street North, Livingston, Mont.

A theory that aims to secure the reconstruction of society, increase of wealth, and a more equal distribution of the products of labor and capital (as distinguished from property), and the public collective management of all industries.
Its motto is: "Everyone according to his deeds."—Standard Dictionary.

There are no classes over in Missoula. In the Bonner addition the "select" end of the town, the Amalgamated company is selling lots in a plot of 12,000 acres, and lots that are disposed of in the immediate vicinity of the city are sold only on condition that the purchaser build not less than a $2,000 house thereon. Don't want to mix with the poor trash, you see.

It would be of material benefit could there be placed into the hands of every union man in the state of Montana a copy of some work like "Two pages of Roman History, Plebs and Labor Leaders." The rank and file of the union men who desire to be right could then see how the union jaw-smiths, alias labor fakirs, connive to lead the workingmen into the capitalist shambles on election day.

About the most nauseating thing for a Socialist to behold at this stage of the game is an old party convention. The tiresome task of listening to some 2x4 cheap lawyer, professional politician or corporation lackey sawing the air with his paws, telling of the learned, noble, patriotic and honest qualities of the "gentleman about to be presented to this intelligent convention" and taking up about 45 minutes to say a couple of words is indeed inspiring. A peep into the republican state convention at Billings and the democratic state convention at Helena should be an elegant sufficiency.

As the Socialist party grows in strength it will be necessary to have an organ treating with the question of organization and tactics. This paper should be supported by the national organization, as it does not seem to be a paying proposition in private hands. Workingmen seem to take to a propaganda paper. After we roll up a cold million or a million and a half for Debs this fall, the difficulty will not be in securing enough members for our local clubs, as much as it will be in keeping undesirable individuals out. Every lawyer, professional politician and labor fakir will be telling us how they were Socialists from the time Marx wrote
"Das Capital."
